Washington, May 24.—The president has just issued a call for 75,000 more volunteers to be mustered in just as soon as they are possible. They will come mostly from the Southern states.

DALTON, THE TAILOR

NOTHING NEW.

The Brutal Assault of Mrs. Stanley Is Still at Large.

Has Doubtless Made Good His Es- cape—Still Much Excitement Over the Outrage.

There have been no new developments in the assault case. Mrs. Stanley is improving, and will recover.

Her assailant has not been captured but he even been heard from. There have been numberless reports about his having been caught but no one has been arrested, and only one or two suspects have been taken up. These were questioned and forthwith released. There is no theory of the direction the fiend took, but it is generally believed that he has escaped. One or two negroes who answered the description were taken up last night and yesterday, but they all proved where they were and were released. The bloodhounds did no good.

There was great excitement in the city last night, and early in the evening it was reported that the right negro had been caught, and would be lynched.

A great many people of the city, without stopping to investigate, hired buggies and bicycles and the road was full of people in a short time. At 9 o'clock there were 300 or 400 people in the woods surrounding Concord school, and many of them were armed.

It was then learned that there was no truth in the reports, no one under arrest, and there would be no lynching. A great many seemed disappointed, and many did not return to the city until after midnight.

A negro was under suspicion here, but the idea of connecting him with the heinous assault was deemed unreasonable by many, as he can hardly walk on account of his age. It was last night also reported that a man had been arrested near Florence Station, but all the rumors seem to have had about the same foundation.

Additional particulars of the assault state that the man had a stick both times when he appeared at Mr. Stanley's. After he had gone to the street and helped himself to a pie, he stuffed his pockets with all sorts of food as he prepared to stave in the woods as long as possible.

He choked Mrs. Stanley until she almost gave up, and afterwards attempted to kill her with a chair, but both times she fought him off with the strength of a desperate woman, and saved her life.

It is generally believed that the negro was a stranger in this part of the country. When he left the neighborhood he came in the direction of the Broadway road and town, and this strengthens the theory that he escaped on board some train.

Mr. Joe Potter, father of Mrs. Stanley, yesterday found the bullet which struck the lady in the head. It was found on the floor, and was washed, having struck her in the forehead and glanced off, coming out near the temple. It was a 38 calibre, and all that saved her life was the fact that it struck her a glancing blow. The other bullet was also found yesterday, having lodged in the muscle near the backbone.

CAMP COLLIER.

Interesting Letter From One of the Paducah Boys—Capt. Davis Is Rapidly Recovering.

The "Sun" Is Appreciated at Camp Collier—The Company Get- ting Along Nicely.

Camp Collier, May 23, 1898.

The SUN:

No news of importance has happened in the past few days worthy of mention. This morning the company was regularly mustered into the U. S. service. Capt. Davis is still confined to his bed in the Protestant infirmary, but was mustered into the service with his company. He is now rapidly recovering from his fall and hopes to be at camp in a few days. It is worthy of note to say a young lady of Paducah, Miss Lena Henneberger, is nurse at the above named infirmary. The boys all feel and act more like soldiers than they did before they were mustered. When we were lined up ready for muster, two men failed to show up, Beverly Reed and James Grogan. One man in line, Henry Gump, dropped out after we were in line of march to the mustering office. These three men deserve the censure of all good people and are a disgrace to our fair city. The boys are all bitter against these men and it would go hard with them if they should show up at the quarters. It is to the credit of our city to say that none of the Paducah boys have been in the guard house and all have conducted themselves in a gentlemanly and soldier-like way.

They have won an enviable reputation in the camp and no company is better liked or better known in either the Second or Third regiment than company K of Paducah. (Here allow us to say we are company K and not company I as has erroneously been stated. Much confusion over mail matter has arisen over this error.) We are fortunate in having for neighbors company E of Madisonville. They are quartered in the same barn with us; Capt. Burefield, commanding that company, is a soldier and perfect gentleman. His lieutenants and his entire company are a nice set of gentlemen and are a credit not only to their home town but to the state of Kentucky as well. We are proud of them and they have won a place in the hearts of company K that will be lasting. We leave no orders yet as to when we will move.

In the absence of Capt. Davis Lieutenants Stewart and Harris have conducted the affairs of the company in a magnificent manner, and their disposed popularity has been increased in the company. They have administered to the wants of every member in the company.

Joe Smith is at the Catholic infirmary with pneumonia and is reported this evening as being very sick. Andrew Bradley is also at the same place and has been since the second day of our encampment. He is improving very much and will be all right in a few days.

The rest of the boys are doing well enough, considering our location. Several of the boys have been remembered by friends at home with nice cakes and which is doubly appreciated at this time.

The kindness of the Sun in liberally supplying us with copies is highly appreciated. We wish to add that the Sun's has been more liberal in this respect than the other Paducah papers—more anon.

NOTES.

Chech Davidson proves more a favorite every day, he is one of our best cooks.

Horace Weil proves to be one of the most popular corporals in the camp, and we predict a higher place awaits him.

Fred McKnight is with us and adds much to the company in the way of a drawing card for the ladies.

Dutch Dickie and Jesse Ullman are known by the entire camp as the "Siamese twins," and are universal favorites.

The Y. M. C. A. has erected a large tent with tables, chairs, etc., for the comfort of the boys. They furnish us with papers, books and stationery. The bath tubs of the association in the city are open to the boys also, only requiring us to furnish a towel. This is quite a favor only appreciated.

Joe Sinnott and Zack Bryant are favorites with the fair sex, and have taken several "buggy rides."

Frankfort, May 24.—It is learned here that the C. & O. road has been ordered to have a special train in readiness to carry a regiment of Kentucky troops the last of the week. It is believed it is to take the Third regiment to Eastern coast defense on Friday or Saturday. The Second regiment goes by the Cincinnati Southern.

Sergeant-Major Tom Jackson is now a private in Company K. He lost his position by another being appointed to it.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1898.

THESE LATTER DAYS.

We believe that those persons who are crying out against the possible permanent occupation of the Philippine Islands by the United States and who quote the Monroe doctrine as proof of the wisdom of their position, do not understand the spirit that today permeates the nation or the principle underlying the war. The seizing of Manila harbor, and thus virtually of Manila itself, by Admiral Dewey was no arbitrary act on the part of this government. The United States is simply yielding to the stern logic of events.

The war with Spain is no conflict of our own seeking. It has been forced upon us and has been foreseen for years by shrewd observers of the tendencies of the Cuban situation. The logic of events knows no precedent. The conclusions of war are inexorable and can be in nowise avoided. Thus the freeing of the slaves by Lincoln was an act not anticipated at the beginning of the war; indeed Lincoln himself was averse to it, until the time came, and the exigencies of war said it must be done.

The course of events may necessitate the occupation of the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, and possibly other Spanish possessions before the war is over. The situation at the time of the peace settlement may require the retention by this government of all that our arms shall capture. Events will decide that and from their decision there will be no appeal.

The policy of this nation to avoid foreign complications and have no colonial system has been wise in the past; it has obtained for over a hundred years. But the general spirit of the country has been gradually changing. The present war has not wrought the change; it has simply aroused the people to a realization of the true situation. Thus the war will settle the Hawaiian Annexation question, and Hawaii will soon be ours; it will settle the Nicaragua Canal question and the canal will be built; it will settle the question of a new navy and the navy will be constructed.

More than that; it has aroused the nation to a realization of the vastness of its power, to the dignity of its position among nations. The talk of an Anglo-American alliance is not merely shrewd diplomacy on the part of English statesmen. It is the acknowledgment, even by England, that the United States is the most powerful nation on the globe, and the recognition of the fact that further isolation by this nation is impossible; that we can not escape the vast international responsibilities that are upon us.

The balance of trade in our favor, for the present year, of nearly $600,000,000 gives a faint idea of the tribute that the world is paying to our grain fields, our mills and our mines. We are no longer an agricultural people only; the fabrics of our looms and our workshops are distributed the wide world over. In justice to our rapidly increasing population, this vast export trade must be fostered and protected.

All these things evince a change in conditions, and the enthusiastic pride that has attended the victory of Manila and the almost universal desire that it be held permanently demonstrate that the people recognize that the nation has outgrown its traditional policy.

In making the terms of peace, in adjusting itself to its new responsibilities, and in entering upon the new career of development and expansion that is before the nation, the people will simply be yielding to the conditions imposed by the progress of events. No administration will be responsible for the change of policy, and no administration can stem the tide of events. We are but yielding to the spirit of the times, and in doing so we are but doing what the great statesmen of the past would do were they now keeping the rudder firm while the old ship of state plows the waves of national development and expansion.

The Powers do not care to intervene, nor have sought to say during the continuance of the war between Spain and the United States. It is intimated, however, that they do purpose to have something to say, when the terms of settlement are to be adjusted. The hint is that the settlement must be made on terms satisfactory to them. It is certain that they will not be called upon by the United States as a court or jury to try the case, and should they volunteer their distinguished services, in such line of action, they will surely meet with rebuff. There is no sort of wish either during, or after the close of the war with Spain, to engage in a war with one or more of the powers. On the contrary we prefer to move along peaceably with the world. We do not purpose to become a part of the syndicate of nations to rob the weaker ones, nor permit ourselves to be a victim of the syndicate and robbed or dictated to. We care nothing for their ambitions or views, and purpose to fight our own battles and settle our own wars without assistance or unasked advice from any source. The United States neither can nor will tolerate interference with our affairs. If it is attempted by the Powers it then means war greater, fiercer than known for a thousand years. Foreign interference means alliances with strong powers and a new map of the world. The unworthy gangs formed by unholy combinations in Europe will and ought to be broken up. The present war will give us a taste for blood and we will change the map of the world if it takes a century, should European nations attempt to dictate to us the terms of the final settlement with Spain.

The wheat crop of the United States last year was the largest produced since 1891, but shortages in other countries make the world's harvest smaller than that of any year since 1890. This was a conjunction of statistical affairs that was most fortunate for American farmers, and they have profited by it in realizing the best prices obtained in any year, with three exceptions, since 1883. The situation indicates that this country may have a larger yield of wheat this year than it had in 1897; but there must be a gain of over 400,000,000 bushels in the world's production to make the latter equal that of 1895, and of over 500,000,000 bushels to bring it up to the size of the harvest of 1894. Europe will want all of the wheat of the coming crop which the United States will have to spare; and producers can count confidently on obtaining good prices, for which they should reap the benefits instead of allowing speculators to receive them, as has been the case to a very large extent, in the increased prices which prevail now.

The building of the Nicaragua canal is now no longer a question open to debate. The war necessities have shown that the United States cannot get along without it. Its benefits as a peace and trade measure have long since been shown by many figures and statistics, but these have been set aside by the grasping sortliness of the Pacific railroads. The recent trip of the Oregon shows the benefit, or rather loss, to us in a naval and war point of view. It is a necessity to the protection of the United States territory, that it shall have facilities for ready consolidation of its navies, either in the Atlantic or Pacific Oceans. The trip of the Oregon was over 13,000 miles with the perils of the sea, and the enemy, in front of her all of the time. The importance of this canal is so great that it must be overlooked no longer. It is the demand not only of the war, but of peace and its commerce. The opposition of railroads must no longer be listened to. Their interests are puny beside the great demands of the whole country.

GENERAL MERRITT'S unwillingness to undertake the task of ousting the Spanish army from the Philippine Islands with an insufficient force of raw recruits furnishes a proof of his fitness for the task. If all his fifteen thousand soldiers should be regulars, seasoned to the instant business before them when they shall be landed at Manila, the odds would still be heavily in favor of the Spaniards, unless the insurgent forces could be depended upon to give efficient aid. The insurgents are an unknown quantity; but Manila is a city of over 100,000 inhabitants, and the population of the Philippines is over eight millions of people speaking strange tongues, unlettered, uncivilized, and incapable of settled and orderly government.

The Bureau of Statistics estimate from the records of the past ten months that the excess of exports over imports for the fiscal year ending June 30, next will approximate $600,000,000. This will be the biggest export trade ever done by the country in any one year.

FOUR ACCEPTED.

By Lieut. Wright, U. S. Cavalry—Eleven Applicants.

Lieut. Schon Wright arrived yesterday afternoon over the Illinois Central, having been laid out all day at Paducah Junction. He belongs to the First Cavalry, United States army, and came to get recruits for the cavalry. He had rooms in Dr. Brooks' infirmary, where the applicants were examined. Two of his assistants, Lieutenants Hirtshel and Wm. Conway, of Houma, La., arrived in the morning, but could do nothing without Lieut. Wright, and consequently nothing was done in the forenoon, although there were several applicants hanging about the building all day.

Dr. J. G. Brooks examined eleven applicants, and accepted four of that number. One out of the eleven, Will Conner, will go to Bowling Green to be examined for his eyes. He was rejected in the Paducah company at Lexington.

One of the successful applicants was a young man who was arraigned in the police court last week for vagrancy. He was released on condition that he procure employment at once, and he was unable to find any except in the cavalry.

Lieut. Wright and his men left last night for Hopkinsville, thence to go to Bowling Green.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The river continues to rise here coming up 7 inches last night. Business is very dull in the towboat circle; the harbor boats are doing comparatively nothing.

The towboat R. A. Speck arrived from Saline river this morning with tow of ties.

The local packets were in and out on time this morning and each had very fair freight receipts.

The Dunbar and Tennessee are both due this afternoon from Nashville en route for Evansville.

The Buttort was in and out for the Cumberland this afternoon doing good freight and passenger business.

The P. D. Staggs and City of Clarksville are both due this afternoon and leave returning tomorrow for Waterloo, Ala., while the latter goes to Elizabethtown.

The Dick and Joe Fowler had good freight trip for Cairo and Evansville out of this port this morning.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Good Crowd at LaBelle Park Last Night—Macabees Entertain.

There was another large crowd at LaBelle park last night, but it was not so large as the one of the night before. The performance was better than on the previous night, and was duly appreciated.

The dive was not made again on last night, as the diver did not succeed in getting his traps up, although a large force of workmen was kept busy at work throughout the performance to get everything in readiness. The management regrets this unfortunate failure as much as any one who has gone out and been disappointed, and tonight will see that the dive is made without fail.

Tonight the same bill will be given, and tomorrow there will be a change of bill, "A Fatal Wedding" to be produced.

Mr. F. L. Keenan, the pianist, arrived this morning from Louisville.

The Macabees' entertainment at Elks hall last night was attended by a large crowd, and the program was well rendered and duly enjoyed. It was one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the kind ever given here.

Tonight at the residence of Mr. John Hook, on North Sixth street, the Willing Workers of the German Evangelical church will give a social for the benefit of the church. Refreshments will be served, and a pleasant time is assured to all who attend. A novel feature, and one that cannot fail to please will be the art department. Everybody is invited to attend.

THE CAMPAIGN.
Talk of a Couple of More Candidates for Congress.

There are no new developments in the congressional race. It is understood that Isaac Hays keys can not raise money enough to make the race on the popular ticket and declares the nomination. Hon. Bud Reeves will run, with the exception that he will run in the democratic primary instead of under the popular device.

There is also talk of Hon. Thos. Corbett, who is said to be anxious to get back into politics again, running on the democratic ticket, but as yet these rumors are all without shape. At any rate, the more the merrier.

MUNICIPAL MELANGE.

Sanitary Measures to Be Enforced Forthwith—Authorities Desire the Co-Operation of Good Citizens.

An Officer Completes His Fifth Year as a Resident of Paducah—Other News Items of Public Interest.

Stringent sanitary measures will at once be enforced by the city authorities, and the city will be kept unusually clean during the summer.

Today Mr. N. F. Roberts was given charge of one of the prisoners on the chain gang, with authority to punish the chain gang. He is in full control of all the flushing for the city, and will keep all the gutters clean during the heated term.

The sanitary inspectors have been given instructions to see that all premises are kept clean, and the chain gang will hereafter spend all its time on the gutters.

The gutters will be flushed regularly and will be kept as clean and free from filth as possible with the force at hand.

The mayor authorizes the press to give the people due notice of this, and to ask their cordial assistance in the work, which cannot fail to prove of inestimable benefit to the entire city.

Officer Frank Harlan, one of the most popular and efficient officers on the Paducah police force, landed at Paducah exactly half a century ago today from New Jersey.

During the fifty years he has been a resident of Paducah he has been on the police force twenty-six years, and has made a record both as a citizen and as an officer of which any man might be justly proud.

He has retained his position through all kinds of administrations and under many mayors, and if he ever had an enemy in his life he would be well off if he had more of them. Officer Harlan is as young and spry as he was when he was on the force, and there is not a better detective anywhere than he.

The city could not get along without him on the force, and the Sax hopes he will enjoy many more years of service, of good health and of the high esteem in which he is held by his fellow citizens.

The work on the water sewer began again this morning, and the big machine was started after a several days' rest. A new consignment of pipe has arrived, and there is nothing to retard work if the weather remains good.

The workmen on Broadway have gotten to Fourth, and the pipe is being covered up as rapidly as laid, to keep the street open as much as possible.

Assistant City Engineer Lyon is expected from his home in Jacksonville, Fla., in a day or two. Mayor Lang telegraphed him yesterday to report at once, and it is supposed that he left at once for Paducah.

The city for fifteen years or more has been hiring a wagon for the purpose of carrying the chain gang to and from work. The wagon has always cost $15 a week. Yesterday the mayor bought an old wagon and second hand set of harness for $25 and confiscated two of the old worn-out horses, and now the city has a first-class rig that does as well as the $15 a week outfit, and costs much less.

He thinks the city should own her chain gang wagon the same as one for the electric light plant.

The chain gang, which had for some time past been employed in constructing the sewers on Adams from Eighth to Tenth, was today taken off and placed exclusively on the gutters. An extra force of workmen was put on the sewer, which is being built by the city for drainage purposes.

The work of lowering the grade at Fifth and Madison streets in order to remedy defective drainage, is progressing slowly, and it looks like the grade is going to be less satisfactory than before. The city is having the work done by day labor. The gutters were torn up there about a year ago and relaid, but it was a needless expense, as it did no good.

The mayor has shipped several people in destitute circumstances to the penitentiary.

Yesterday a lady called on him and wanted him to ship three children to Arkansas, at an expense to the city of about $40. He declined.

H. J. Gregory, an aged man, was sent to Wingo.

John Boyd, colored, who has been in the city hospital, was sent to Memphis.

S. Berger who was ill, was sent to Evansville.

Chief of Night Police Barler last night issued a new order to his men, and it was today approved by the mayor. It requires them to report for duty at 6 p. m. The roll is called at 6:30, and all officers not
